ADVERTORIALS

03

KEY CONDITIONS ADVERTORIALS (1/2)

The following guidelines have been developed to ensure that our readers can clearly distinguish between editorial content and commercial messages. This way it is clear who the sender of a particular message is. If an advertorial meets these conditions, it can be placed on our platforms. But keep in mind that our editorial staff always has the final say on the placement of an advertorial.

CONDITIONS

1. In addition to the advertorial, the FD editorial staff itself places the word 'ADVERTENTIE' in a block. The advertiser is not permitted to use terms such as 'advertisement' or 'advertorial'.
2. To avoid confusion, the text should not be formatted in an FD newspaper letter (Arnhem, Gotham, Consort) or something similar. A sans-serif type is therefore the most suitable type for an advertorial in the daily newspaper. In an appendix or magazine, where editorial texts are sometimes partly laid out in sans-serif letters, the font must be clearly (at a glance) different.
3. The layout of the advertorial clearly differs from the layout of an FD article.

BE INADMISSIBLE

1. An identical column structure as that of the FD.
2. The use of an author line ('from our editor'/'from our correspondent').
3. The use of a location (AMSTERDAM -- ; THE HAGUE --).
4. Specific style features designed in the layout of the FD such as labels, insets, quotes, delineation, round photos with portraits, grid/line structure as the FD uses in color areas.

03

KEY CONDITIONS ADVERTORIALS (2/2)

Advertorials are commercial expressions that are intended to be seen as editorial text, or to 'get' as close as possible to the formula of the medium in question. The editors reserve the right at all times to reject an advertorial and not to publish it.

The rules below have been drawn up to ensure that the distinction between editorial articles and commercial expressions is explicitly clear to the reader and that there is no confusion about the sender of the expression. If the advertorial meets the conditions below, it can be placed on our platforms.

BE INADMISSIBLE (CONTINUED)

1. Use of color that comes close to the basic FD colors. The most important FD colors are:
2. FD green (50/0/10/30)
3. FD orange (0/55/100/20)
4. FD orange light (0/45/100/0)
5. FD blue (100/50/30/0)
6. FD purple (40/40/0/20)
7. FD brown (18/25/25/0)
8. The above applies to all publications, including appendices with a different layout than the newspaper.
9. An advertorial for, for example, a Pension Annex must explicitly deviate from the design of that specific annex.
10. The advertorial text may not be presented in interview form.
11. The sender (advertiser) must be made clear by including the logo of the company or institution. This logo has a height of at least 3 centimeters.
12. It is not permitted to include a link to an editorial FD article in the advertorial. If the advertiser wants to link to a digital advertorial on FD.nl (or another FD platform), this is done by means of: the link: FD.nl/advertorials/'advertiser name'.
13. No advertorials are placed as IM on editorial pages. Advertorials are therefore placed on advertising pages.
14. Each advertorial is submitted to the editor-in-chief no later than 2 days before publication.
15. All previous conditions also apply to FD Personal, however:
16. The advertiser must place "ADVERTISER" (not ADVERTORIAL and not italics) centered above the advertorial in a Gotham Bold letter (corps 9 capital). With a spread on the left page).
17. Each advertorial must first be submitted to the editor-in-chief no later than 12 days before publication.
18. The advertorial must state: "Company" is responsible for the content of this statement.
